Table Talk

News and Views of the Student Body of The Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg.

Volume X

April 5, 1974

Issue #8

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

by Jim Ellison

On this coming Monday, April 8, at 3:00 o'clock, the Student Association will meet in room 206 of Valentine to conduct the election for the comin year, 1974-1975. Every student as a member of one of the three resident classes, is eligible to vote. The election will be for next year's President and Vice President.

In addition, on that day we will vote on several proposed amendments to the Student Association constitution and by-laws. Since I will be out of town on that day I would like to explain the reasoning for this action.

First, as anyone knows, the constitution needs a general up-dating. There is a need to change the section that makes the agenda due to be posted for a meeting only two days before the Association. Dues are voted on in the fall (after the Business Office bills you ). That needs to be changed to the Spring term. Also the section dealing with the Social Action Con ittee requires a member of the Women of the Seminary to be a representative to that committee. Since we don't have W.O.T.S. group and surely this should be changed to a member of the Tashin ton House of Studies.

Another amendment proposed would require a member of each class and a Washin ton House of Studies person on the Lecture Publications, and Social Committee ( Social Action and the proposed Consortium Rel tions Committee is dealt with elsewhere in the by-laws ).

Perhaps the largest bulk of the amendments deal with the Consortium Relations Com ittee, which would replace the Eccumenics Committee. This new committee as an attempt to deal with the problems of having a seminary in two different locations ( there is another way of doing this by simply saying "to Hell with the othere site" ). This committee would facilitate relations between "ashington and Get ysburg and would make each site aware of what is going on at the other one. It would consist of eight members-one student each of the resident classes at Gettysburg and three elected by and from the House of Studies, plus the director of the H ou se and a Gettysburg faculty member. The chairman would come from the L.h.S.

This, briefly, is what we have in mind by proposing (continued page 2 these mendments. It are open to amenda ts from the floor for these propos is and encour ny denste a out them. Teedless to say we recomend their passage.

At this time, I would like to thank the committee chairmen and officers for their outstanding contribution this year and Dr. Heiges for his suggestions and insights about the student program. Also, to be thanked are the student and faculty representatives of the various committees.

I would hope future student goverments could work on relations with the Board. I really do not think, however, that the board will weriously listen to the students until there are voting students on the Board. I would hope that we could see this in the near future. (ton't P. 7) # # #

CONFIRMATION QUOTES

The following were taken from seventh and eig grade confirmation tests:

Explanations to commandments-

-Phou shall have no other God before me.

-Do not covet your neithors ass, ox, or mule.

-You should take no stuff from anybody.

-You should not go around with others belongings unless you're not married.

-You should love and fear God so much that you don't fool around with your neighbor's wife.

Q-Vhy would one still want to follow what God commands even with grace given?

A-Because my mom wints me to be like and follow God. Because it's gone on for generations.

The following was taken from a previous issue of Table Talk in 1965, but it is felt that it deserves repeating.

Q-How do you know that Jesus rose from the dead? A-because Partin Luther said so when he wrote the Apostles' Creed.

AT ENTIN MR. GRITSCH: A future Luther scholar in the making.

* * * * * *

"No. I haven't been faithful at prayer lately, Pastor. I haven't needed anything."

coucrețe in his mouth! A concerned student. seen running from the Martin Luther statue with a hunk of ATTENTION CHUCK POLM: The cat that chewed your new shoe was

OLGA WORRALL - CHANNEL OF HEALING

On Wednesday, April 10, 1974, Mrs. Olga Worrall, nationally and internationally known for her work in the Christian ministry of healing, will visit Gettysburg. She will speak on the question of spiritual healing at a meeting open to the public at the Seminary, in the Aberly Room, Valentine Hall, beginning at 1:30 P.M. on the 10th. After her address there will be a question and answer period.

She will also lead an intercessory prayer service around the theme of healing in the St. James Lutheran Church at 8:00 P.M. the same day. The service is open to the public. It follows the 7 o'clock Communion Service in the same church.

Mrs. Worrall, 67, comes from an Eastern Orthodox background. Her father was a professor of theology. From early years she showed signs of extraordinary psychic sensitivity. She soon became aware that she could be used as a channel for healing in the name of Christ. She married an Englishman, Ambrose Worrall, who later became a construction engineer at Martin's Aircraft Company. Mr. Worrall, too had become aware of a gift as a meditator of healing. For several decades the Worralls carried out a healing ministry in Baltimore. When Mr. Worrall died 1 st year his wife continued her laying-of-hands ministry at the Thursday services in the New Life Clinic in Baltimore's North Washington Methodist Church. These services, led by the Reverend Robert Kirkley, the host congregation's pastor, have become known all over America, especially after publication of two books by the Worralls, The Gift of Healing and Explore Your Psychic World.

The Worralls have maintained close contact with numerous members of the medical profession. A sympathetic lead article on Mrs. Worrall's work and the mystery of healing miracles recently appeared in the journal Medical Economics. Mr. and Mrs. Worrall have placed themselves at the disposal of parapsychological research workers, for instance at U.C.L.A.

Alleluia | The King of Réjoice-Réjoicel Mings lives!

By -Stephen Patrick

I have patiently awaited a statement from the Worship Committee concerning "conduct" of worshippers. Apparently the prob-lem has been discussed, but no act taken. What I am speaking of is a specific offense, having noth-How can we mend a broken heart? ing to do with what happens in the liturgy itself. It seems to me that it is just plain gross disrespect and unconcern for those Did you know that the season's in attendance to talk and laugh out loud during the musical prelude and postlude. Obviously, the musician has prepared the music and is not there to play mood music or "travelling music." This is part of the worship service and should be given proper recog- "You know the score. So where's the nition as such. It might even be appropriate to sit and listen to the postlude. I am not trying to put a damper upon any type of fellowship that occurs in the chapel, but please try to acknowledge the fact there are those, including the musician, who are engaged in devotions.

The following is an unpayed political announcement:

We would like to announce that several students requested that Bernie Carl run for Student Association President on Monday. As a result there will be an organized write-in campaign for him. There is space on your ballots for write-in votes if you choose this. The others running are Fred Neiderhiser, James Jewart and Jerry Cobb.

Thank you.

The Bernie For President Supporters.

The following was taken from the Luring is Seminary Paper: CURRENT AFFAIRS-title

I'm not much on current affairs don't ask me what's going on out there or what will happen or what has passed or if the current peace will last

Some call it illiteracy I know not Nixon's policys on money, the gas or meat marts;

I'm not much on current events

Lent?

-Jeff Martinson

rypoetrypoetrypoetry-poetry

Limerici Theologici or

game?"

Prima

There once was a man named Jesus who probably never would please us. Back then he was sent. Now Word and Sacrament he gives which at once binds and frees us.

Secunda

There once was a young seminarian Who felt he must be quite "his own man."

"Ne'er to chapel I'll go! Tis not my kind of show! B-ball and TV are more American!"

[!] + i ma

Now he's roosting on his first parish perch and beginning a parishoner search. Oh! How sad he can be for it's them now, not he, that "simply cannot" be at church. -Opalinski

"Three things have been difficult to tame: the oceans, fools and women. We may soon be able to tame the ocean; fools and women will take a little longer." Spiro Agnew

LOI, LEMA SABACHTANI?"

"And whoever welcomes in my name one such child as this, welcomes me."

Dr. Myers often said in class that he learned alot from his students through their comments and additions. I think we too who, even though still students, often find ourselves in the role of teachers, and can have our minds opened by a seventh or eighth grader. The following is an essay in response to the question "Would you choose your lifestyle or God's lifestyle?"

I think I would choose my lifestyle over God's but I am glad that I don't have to make the choice. No human being would be able to follow God's lifestyle because He is perfect and we are sinful. Personally, I wouldn't like God's lifestyle because because there would be too much work and not enough time for fun. Also, some activities would be restricted because of the amount of sin involved. However, there would be some advantages to living in God's manner or style. But my lifestyle is fine by me and I wouldn't want to change it in any way.

To make this choice demands a great deal of thought about what you want. You would have to study the two situations corefully and make a list of the assets and liabilities of each lifestyle. Only then would you be able to make the right choice for you.

Actually, it would be almost impossible to make the wisest choice, because you do not know what God's lifestyle is really like. You can only go by what you have learned which is all god but humans are not always good.

God's lifestyle would probably be acceptable to me because He can do many things that I can't. I can also do some things that God can't but He is still better than me.

In my life, I can gain forgiveness from God for my sins but God can gain no forgiveness if He com its any sins because there is no one over Him.

-Seventh grade catechuman

* * *

* Table Talk, 1832 Style

The following is from a handwritten student publication found in the archives. Entitled "The Bophronian" it dates February 23rd, 1832

"In entering upon our editorial career, it becomes our duty to state in a few words, the course we intend to pursue. Our design is not to meddle with religious or political (broils), but to promote the cause of truth and honesty.

1. Religious and moral essays of pro-questionable size will be recieved and inserted in our columns.

2. It is our object to communicate such news as immediately concerns the students of the Seminary.

3. We deign briefly to notice the most remarkable occurrences which take place in town.

4. All matter with a few exceptions will be original.

5. Our journal shall be issued weekly, upon half sheet of fool's cap.
Editor."

poetrypoetrypoetrypoetrypoetrypoetrypoetrypoetrypoetrypo

This poem is about Bobby D--, a 12 year old patient at Selinsgrove State School and Hospital, who was rejected for adoption twice and placed in the institution because he was "Culturally retarded." Today, under the new system begun by the Sec. of Health and Public Welfare, this kind of placement would not be permitted, yet a goodly number of such chilren still populate our state schools.

STATE SCHOOL CHILD:

A lonely boy. 14 years long. Walls/hurt by rejected love.

... Walls/

a little life.
rejected by parents.
trust - smash!

he sits alone.
large eyes peer with fright.
Oh God . . . Walls/

Someone beckons
"Come Child."
the small fist clinches.

good deeds: never lasting. dropped by charity. hurt . . . hate . . .

he cowers alone.
pity from a passerby.
WALLS/

alone . . . alone . . . . alone death

How can anyone fear meaninglessness in death, unless he has meaninglessness in life?

* * * * * *

ADIAPHORA

Coming Events:

Monday, April 8- Student Association election and constitutional amendments, Room 206, Valentine, 3:00 P.M.
Wednesday, April 10- Mrs. Olga Worral speaks, Aberly Room Valentine 1:30 P.M.

Wednesday, April 10- Election of Steward, Refectory, 6:00 P.I.

April 12th-15th- Easter Break. VACATION (Classes start April 16th)
Sunday April 14th- EASTER SUNDAY
Wednesday, April 17th- A night to pay tribute to Dr. Heiges. Refec. 6:00

* * * * *

A PARABLE
"Once upon a time there were four men who belonged to the same church. Their names were Joe Somebody,
George Anybody, Jack Everybody and Sam Nobody.

Everybody thought he would like to go to Chruch School but he figured Somebody would be friendly with Anybody so Nobody went.

Everybody was asked to teach a Sunday School class, but he thought surely Anybody would want to be a teacher and at least Somebody would want to do it; but Nobody finished up teaching it.

Whenever there is a job to be done, Everybody agrees with Anybody that Somebody will do it but Nobody does it.

Precious memories: These four men died and went to be with the Lord. Guess who got the rewards?
You're right!
Nobody. Amen"

Here is a human interest story taken from Sports Illustrated, April 1, 1974 by Ralph Dunkin:

"The skiing pastor at Jack Frost Mountain in Pennsylvania's Pocono range realizes why his services are lightly attended. "I wish more would come in and talk, but I understand skiers," says 24-old Jon Heilner (Gettsburg intern), who has been installed as a ministerial intern by the Pocono Lutheran Recreation linistry in an A-frame chapel at the top of the slopes. "They don't get that much time to ski." The picnic bench pews in the unnainted pine interior of the chapel can seat 40, but Heilner is happy if half that many park their skies outside. He bears no malice, be-lieving that "the Lord works in mysterious ways." As proof, on his jacket he wears a patch that says PRAY FOR SNOW.

The Lord's Prayer has 56 words. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address has 266 Like wanting to escape when you are words. The Ten Commandments have 297. The Declaration of Independence has 300. A recent U.S. Government order setting the price of cabb ges has 26,911 words.

TABLE TALK STAFF:

Managing Editor: Bob Dealey Circulation Manager: Robert Mitchell Knowing you can never stay to long Associate Editors: Ralph Strohl

Marcia Thompson

Special Art Effects: Elaine Sullivan This Issue.

Christ Risen!

(Cont from p. 1.) Also, I would like to propose as we close-out this year that every student contribute just one dollar to the Development Committee, so they can use the fact that students have contributed in assisting with their job of making sure that thereccontinues to be a Seminary at Gettysburg.

Hope to see you honday at 3:00!

Jim Ellison poetrypoetrypoetrypoetrypoe When skies ain't sunny, I guess they're bleak. Another type of bleakness is being hung up, And so taking a very open view I toss these words to all in a hung un state. Being hung-up is like an overdoes of harpsichord music. A type of eeling that's born and can't be brought, already free.

Or knowing where you want to go, but not going. It's sort of like finding out that you are one Of those tiny invisible birds That are born to fly without any feet, in one place

For fear the great white falcon, though he can't be seen And realizing that if you touch the earth its final.

It's like the codein mixture of a new found love,

Drugging the sorrowful heart with unlimited joy - intela

Until the habil is broken by the word trust And it becomes a nighttime dream in the middle of the day So that it shakes your faith till you fade into nothingness. Being hung-up is like being straight in a false atmospheree And paying the price of a worthwhile cause, Because while lying among a shelter of tall, green grass You felt secure because all the hunters had passed by Refusing to believe what your eyes reveal; And being shot, by one too foolish to realize what's been done Then seeing the red blood drip from your breast Watching life wander off aimlessly.... Biff